

The Møller Centre - a SMART place to work

The Møller Centre is smart ..... and so are the people who work here.

As a dedicated residential training and conference venue, our clients consist of some of the smartest organisations in the world mostly from the top 500 FTSE.

These organisations only want the best and we pride and delight ourselves with the way we work together to provide this exceptional level of service.

There are plenty of companies who pay lip service to "consultation with the team", "empowerment" and "service excellence." Here, these values are ingrained in everything we do all day, every day. Consequently we have successfully created an outstanding culture that is second to none.

The team we have developed here are enthusiastic, hard working, loyal and extremely professional. They also love to have a good time, and we fully recognise that people have a life outside work. To this end we aim to ensure that we help every individual to achieve a work/life balance.

We believe passionately in promoting from within where we possibly can, and provide an outstanding level of training and development opportunities for everyone.

We offer good salaries and perks include discretionary profit related bonus, use of the fitness suite, 25 days holiday per annum plus bank holidays, free on-site car parking and meals on duty.

Our Danish designed building is a positively uplifting place in which to work - bright, airy, spacious and modern.

Cambridge City is of course one of the most vibrant, exciting and diverse cities in the UK, with outstanding arts, entertainment and sporting facilities. You will never be bored here!

We are also able to help you with temporary accommodation should the need arise.

Don't just take our word for it ask any member of staff and they will tell you what a fantastic and genuinely unique place The Møller Centre is to work.
